

SOCIOLOGY

Minimum entry grades: a grade 6 in English and a 5 in Maths at GCSE.

More than once on this course, you will find yourself asking, “Why has society developed like this with poverty, ignorance, crime and injustice?”

This A-level will help you find the answer.

Why study it?

Studying sociology offer insights into the social and cultural issues. It helps you develop a multi-perspective and critical approach to understanding issues around culture, identity, religion, crime, families and social power.

This subject is for you if...

- You are someone who takes an interest in societal issues.
- You are looking for a career where you can make a difference.
- You are interested in the social sciences and can research phenomena independently.

Where can it lead you?

A-level Sociology students will typically go on to study sociology, psychology, English, business studies, law and teaching.

Sociology is a great choice of subject for people who want a career in social work, nursing or medicine. The subject is also useful in a number of other careers, like marketing, advertising, PR, journalism, law or teaching.
