

Approximately one third of year 9 students choose RS GCSE, and about half of our most recent A Level cohort went on to study RS, Philosophy or a linked subject at university.

According to recent student feedback:

Teachers have such a clear passion for the subject and are always so supportive. I really appreciate how they are always so willing to give up their time to help with any query, no matter how small or large.'

'They are so passionate about the subject which really translates in the effort they put into lessons. They listen to all answers and are positive about them but always give ways to improve even more.'

Pete Edwards:

Published article in REToday: 'Engagement 8 - Tackling the issues at GCSE'.

Founder of RESpect, the biggest social media support network for RE teachers in the UK.

Lecturer at UWE and the School of Ismaeli Studies, London.

